Additional informations	We are an entrepreneurial investment company and offer medium-sized companies long-term equity participation in the context of growth financing and succession planning. We specialize in the fields of medical technology, plastics technology, safety technology and chemistry. We are interested in all companies whose development depends on these four markets. This means that, for example, in medical technology, we are not only interested in the manufacturer of the medical-technical end product. We also look to suppliers of components and materials used in medical devices or companies that offer medical services.
